| Size: | 0.25 ha |
| Reserve status: | Reserve |

Physical description

The reserve is located in the residential suburb of Frankleigh Park and fronts Bromley Place. It is predominately a grassed open space which slopes down towards the Waimea Stream at the rear of the reserve. A number of specimen trees exist on the south-west side.

Tangata whenua interests

This reserve is within the tribal rohe of Te Atiawa Iwi. The area is of historic and cultural significance to Ngati Te Whiti.

Land status and history

In 1953 the land was vested as reserve in the Mayor, Councillors and Citizens of New Plymouth, upon subdivision.

Existing improvements

At the road front a timber barrier is in place. A playground consisting of a small modular unit with a slide, swings and a seesaw exist towards the front of the reserve. There is also a park bench.

Uses and activities

This reserve is suitable for child's play and picnicking. It is also used as access to the Waimea walkway which runs along the Waimea Stream.
